August 2018

Dear Fellow Debate Coach,

Hello, and welcome to another year of high school competitive debate, acting and public speaking!

What is provided here is an introduction to our global village. Being a debate coach is generally divided into two separate areas: CLASSROOM/TEACHING, and COACHING/ADMINISTERING. The various folders of information in the on-line curriculum guide are departmentalized as such; however, there are bound to be some areas where cross-application takes place. That's OK. Better to have too much than not enough.

Additionally, because this is a continual "work in progress," there may be some files in need of updating or that are missing. Let us know, we'll work on it!

This is a database of lessons, units, exams, and other important informational items. You are encouraged to use and adapt anything you find in these materials to your classroom, team, and coaching requirements and preferences.

These lesson/unit plans and administrative materials are available via the PBCFL web site (www.pbcfl.net).

COACHING – DEBATE LEAGUES AND CONTACTS

There are three debate leagues to which schools in Palm Beach and Martin counties generally belong:

1: The Palm Beach Catholic Forensic League (PBCFL) is the local affiliate of the National Catholic Forensic League (NCFL), comprised of around 25-30 public and private high school programs primarily from Palm Beach and Martin counties.

PRESIDENT: Traci Lowe, Suncoast HS

VP, INDIVIDUAL EVENTS: Paul Gaba, Wellington HS

VP, DEBATE EVENTS: Daryl Hall, Palm Beach Central HS

SECRETARY: Angie Anyzeski, Dreyfoos School of the Arts

TREASURER: Dale McCall, retired

Your officers, along with a number of other experienced coaches in the league, are available to answer questions, offer teaching and coaching ideas and perspectives, and assist you at both the classroom and debate tournament levels.

PBCFL WEBSITE: <http://www.pbcfl.net> (this is where full-text Congressional Debate legislation will be posted)

NCFL WEBSITE: <http://www.ncfl.org>

NCFL NATIONALS WEBSITE: <http://www.ncflnationals.org>

The PBCFL hosts eight tournaments a year between September and April, rotating among different schools in the league. The "Grand Finals" tournament is a national championship qualifier, and individuals who advance from that tournament will compete at the NCFL "Grand National" tournament over Memorial Day weekend. The 2019 CatNats will be in Milwaukee; 2020 will be in Chicago.

Your school will have to pay $75 dues to the PBCFL for the school year. If your school competed at last year's PBCFL Grand Finals national qualifier but did not send students to the national championship, your team's yearly dues are already paid.

2: The Florida Oceanfront National Speech & Debate Association (NSDA) District reaches from Palm Beach north to the Indian River/Brevard county line and west to Hendry County. There are eight counties that make up Oceanfront: Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River, Okeechobee, Highlands, Glades, and Hendry.

Roughly 25-30 schools are in the Florida Oceanfront District. Many are also in the PBCFL. Your officers are: Paul Gaba, Chair; Angie Anyzeski; Daryl Hall; Richard LoSardo (Martin County HS); and Traci Lowe. There are two NSDA national qualifier district tournaments a year – the Congressional Debate qualifier, and the Speech/

Debate qualifier. Students advance from both to compete at the NSDA national championship. The 2019 nationals will be in Dallas.; 2020 will be in Albuquerque.

Until recently, NSDA was known as the National Forensic League (NFL). The acronym/reference is still likely to come up in discussion.

HOW TO ... Register with the National Speech & Debate Association
920-748-6206

NSDA WEBSITE: <http://www.speechanddebate.org/>

FLORIDA OCEANFRONT NSDA WEBSITE: <https://www.facebook.com/FloridaOceanfrontNSDA>

The NSDA uses an online point recording system, which allows immediate updated team results. In order to use the online recording system, you have to make sure that your NSDA dues are paid. Go to the “Join The League” link, then click either “Join” or “Renew” and follow the instructions. (Or click the “To pay with check or purchase order” link.) You need to get a check requested from your school’s book keeper for $149 made out to the National Speech & Debate Association. After the payment has been received by the NSDA, you can work with the online system. You will have to register with the NSDA. (Each individual lifetime student membership, after achieved, is $20.)

3: A third league is the Florida Forensic League. About 12-15 area schools are members of the FFL Macaw Region, which stretches from Palm Beach County north to Volusia County. The Macaw Region representative position is Suncoast’s Traci Lowe. The FFL has three tournaments a year – a regional qualifier in early February, the state varsity championship in early March (novices are eligible to compete there, too), and a novice state championship in April.

FFL WEBSITE: <https://floridaforensicleague.com/>

The FFL membership drive kicks off around Sept. 1. To join, go to www.joyoftournaments.com/fl/ffl and apply for membership. The deadline for registration without financial penalty is December 15. Membership is $70 for the year if a returning FFL program, $35 if your school has not been a member in the past three years. FYI, 3-4 Macaw Region entries in each event will qualify for Varsity State; the exact number is still to be determined. To compete at Novice State, teams need to have at least one competitor at the regional tournament.

NOVICE DEBATE CLASSROOM – YOUR FIRST WEEK

The best way to “kick off” the school year is by introducing students to the idea of public speaking. Some will be very confident; others will be very intimidated. Using an “icebreaker” to get students to not only do a short oral presentation, but to also get to know the other members of the class, is a good idea, and several such ideas are included in the CLASSROOM – FIRST WEEK folder.

You will also want to distribute and explain your classroom syllabus, rules, and a basic synopsis of not only what the class will involve, but the idea of debate tournaments and what they entail. Several examples of syllabi and student paperwork packets are in the COACHING – START OF YEAR PAPERWORK folder.

NOVICE DEBATE CLASSROOM – AUGUST & SEPTEMBER

First-year debaters will be learning about a variety of different competitive debate, acting and public speaking events this year. Some are political in nature, some are not.

The first event taught in the classroom should be a hybrid of all debate areas called Congressional Debate (also known as Student Congress). In this event, roughly 20-25 students from various schools will congregate in a classroom for debate on federal legislation proposed by the students themselves. At the PBCFL’s September Congressional tournament (see schedule information below), “novice” students will be together in the same room, and will compete ONLY against other first-time debaters from other schools. Varsity debaters will act as “presiding officers” who call on speakers, track speaker time, and control action in the legislative chamber; they will not be competing against first-year debaters.

Here’s a sample list of titles:

- Dreyfoos School of the Arts: A Bill to Impose Sanctions on Iran
- Boca Raton: A Bill To Combat The HIV/AIDS Epidemic In Sub-Saharan Africa
- Martin County: A Resolution to Disband Immigration and Customs Enforcement
- Cardinal Newman: A Resolution to Abolish Affirmative Action
- Suncoast: A Bill to Support ESEAN to De-escalate Tensions in the South China Sea

Full-text legislation will be emailed to the PBCFL webmaster before Labor Day Weekend, and will be posted on the PBCFL’s website shortly thereafter. Coaches will be notified when the legislation is online. Students should research all the topics in order to give speeches on the various bills and resolutions, as specific chamber breakdowns will not be available until three days before the actual competition date. (NOTE: Chamber breakdowns will only be announced before the September and December PBCFL tournaments.) The class should teach students how to research, outline and formally present speeches, plus learn cross-examination techniques.

(Information on how to register for tournaments and email legislation can be found in the COACHING – INDIVIDUAL TOURNAMENT PAPERWORK folder.)

After the first tournament of the year, first-year students should begin working on 2-3 new novice-specific events for the October PBCFL tournament. However, all events (see below), including Congressional Debate, will be offered. After the October tournament, coaches will start on 2-3 different novice-specific events. Basically, by the end of the school year, everyone in the class should have learned about all events offered at weekend competitions.

NOVICE DEBATE CLASSROOM – OTHER DEBATE EVENTS

There are about a dozen debate, forensic and public speaking events at the core of the debate classroom and tournament structure. They are:

There are numerous Speech & Debate events. You will learn about, have assignments dealing with, and potentially compete in, the following during the course of the school year:

- Lincoln Douglas Debate (LD) features one person on each side of a philosophical question. Propositions of value are debated with the emphasis on developing logical argumentation rather than an accumulation of information. Students learn values analysis, argumentation skills, sound and ethical uses of persuasion, and clear audience-centered communication. Topics change every two months.

President: Traci Lowe, Suncoast High School - traci.lowe@palmbeachschools.org

Vice President/Individual Events: Paul Gaba, Wellington High School - paul.gaba@palmbeachschools.org

Vice President/Debate Events: Daryl Hall, Palm Beach Central HS, daryl.hall@palmbeachschools.org

Secretary: Angie Anyzeski, Dreyfoos School of the Arts, angela.anyzeski@palmbeachschools.org

Treasurer: Dale McCall - brmccl@aol.com

www.pbcfl.net

- Public Forum Debate (PFD) is audience-friendly debate. You and a partner will debate controversial current event issues. PFD will test your skills in argumentation, cross-examination, and refutation. The topic changes monthly.
- In Extemporaneous Speaking (EXT), a contestant draws three questions on a foreign or domestic current event topic, selects one, and has 30 minutes to prepare an answer. The contestant utilizes a set of files that he or she has built as a resource for answering the question.
- Dramatic Performance (DP) is an individual category in which the selections are dramatic or humorous in nature. Selections are from published-printed novels, short stories, plays, poetry, or any other printed-published materials. Presentations are memorized and made without props or costumes.
- Duo Interpretation (DUO) is a two-person category in which the selections are dramatic or humorous in nature. Like DP, selections are from published-printed novels, short stories, plays, poetry, or any other printed-published materials. Presentations must be memorized and speeches made without props or costumes.
- In Oral Interpretation (OI), students create programs of prose and poetry to perform while using a binder. This performance is unlike Dramatic Performance in that the pieces are not memorized and they are not “acted out” to the degree that DP pieces are. The performer must use vocal imagery and facial expression to convey the emotion of the work.
- Original Oratory (OO) allows students to create, memorize, and present a speech on a topic of the student’s own creation. Many orations deal with a current problem and propose a solution. Orations can also alert the audience to a threatening danger, strengthen its devotion to an accepted cause, or eulogize a person. An orator is given free choice of subject and judged solely on the effectiveness of development and presentation.
- Informative Speaking (INFO) is similar to Oratory, in that students author and deliver a presentation on a topic of their choosing. However, competitors create the speech to educate the audience on a particular topic. All topics must be informative in nature; the goal is to educate, not to advocate. Visual aids are permitted, but not required. The speech is delivered from memory.
- Program of Oral Interpretation (POI) should not be confused with Oral Interpretation. In POI, using selections from Prose, Poetry and Drama, students create a program around a central theme. POI is designed to test a student’s ability to intersplice multiple types of literature into a single, cohesive performance. A manuscript is required and may be used as a prop within the performance if the performer maintains control of the manuscript at all times.
- In Declamation (DEC), students memorize a previously given speech. The speech may be an old oratory, a public address, or anything that has been presented before. Judges focus on the presentation of the speech rather than the content of the speech. Speech choice factors into the judging as well. Tournament competition is limited to freshmen and sophomores.
- World Schools Debate (WSD) is a 3-on-3 debate event which features a dynamic format combining the concepts of “prepared” topics and “impromptu” topics, encouraging debaters to focus on specified issues rather than debate theory or procedural arguments. This highly interactive style of debate allows debaters to engage each other, even during speeches.

DVD copies of national championship level performances are available through the National Speech & Debate Association. There are also links to performances on the PBCFL web site.

COACHING – A FORMAL PARENT/STUDENT MEETING. Early in the year, you want to set up and hold a meeting with your team’s parents and students. This meeting is to help parents understand the world of debate a little better, and if new coaches would feel more comfortable having a veteran coach or two along to help answer technical questions and explain debate to these parents and students, that’s not a problem (just ask someone you trust and give enough advance notice). Debate in general will be discussed; some coaches include a tournament attire “fashion show” (more information on tournament attire below) as well. Students should receive a packet of important paperwork the first week or two of classes; it’s good to have several notaries in attendance to take care of some of the official paperwork required for tournament participation.

Along with getting to know how the debate and forensic forum operates, this meeting has other advantages. It will be a great opportunity to meet other debate parents (varsity and novice alike), to form (if needed) future car pool contacts for local and regional tournaments, to find out about the tournament dress code, and to learn some very key rules about debate tournaments and decorum. Because teams need volunteers for everything from judging debate events at tournaments and chaperones at regional and “away” competitions to helping when hosting a tournament to donating food and drinks for debate events, this is an ideal time to find out more about how parents can help positively impact their child’s participation in the phenomenal world of debate and forensic arts.

COACHING – DEBATE PROGRAM DUES/LOCAL TOURNAMENT FEES

Palm Beach Catholic Forensic League

For PBCFL tournaments, the league charges $8 per student entry, and the host school charges $7 per student lunch and judge lunch. Many coaches charge students either $15 or $20 per PBCFL tournament, to not only cover student costs, but the adult judge costs. At PBCFL tournaments, coaches are mandated to order meals for all their students and their judges/adult quota.

NOTE: the Palm Beach School District's policies are clear that if coaches incorporate tournament participation as a debate class grade, "no penalty of any type will be imposed against a student based upon a failure to pay. No student shall be denied the right to participate for failure to pay. The principal may forego a planned activity or use of a particular item based upon the collection of insufficient funds to cover the cost of the item or activity. This monetary request is voluntary." This does not mean the PBCFL or host schools waive financial obligations, such as registration fees, drop fees, or meals, to schools that compete.

Ways that some coaches have worked with this requirement include dubbing payment a "donation," using fundraising by students to cover these costs, or offering alternative no-cost public speaking opportunities to students. Additionally, some coaches request a flat "cover all PBCFL tournaments" donation at the start of the year.

Dues can be charged to extracurricular competitive team students who are not in the classroom.

Other tournaments (non-PBCFL) may have additional costs associated with them due to tournament-imposed fees, hotel stays, transportation, meals, etc.

COACHING – DEBATE TOURNAMENTS

Tournament travel varies, depending on the tournament. There's sort of a "tier" system, per se:

LOCALS – there are eight tournaments on the "local" circuit (PBCFL), all on a Saturday (one each in September, October, November, December, January, February, March, and April). Most, if not all, will be within Palm Beach County or Martin County. Travel for these is essentially "on your own" – car pooling, parental driving, or student driving (ONLY within county boundaries, and ONLY if that's allowed by the parents), with ALL required paperwork on file. Tournaments are "all-day" affairs; students need to be on the host school campus by 7:30 a.m. that day (on-site registration shuts down at 7:45 a.m., and rounds start at 8 a.m. prompt!), and the awards ceremony will usually be over by 4:30 p.m.

In early February is the Florida Forensic League Macaw regional qualifier, where students have the opportunity to advance to the state championship tournament the first weekend in March. There is also a "novice state championship" tournament hosted by the FFL in April, where first-year debaters compete.

REGIONALS – these are tournaments in Ft. Lauderdale or Miami, such as the Crestian Tradition, Nova Titan Invitational, or University School Sunvitational, where programs generally arrange car pools ahead of time. Students are not allowed to drive out of county, per school district policy.

OUT-OF-AREA WITHIN FLORIDA – Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville, Gainesville, etc. definitely fall here – schools usually pool together and travel via charter bus for these tournaments, with adult chaperones (at a 1-to-10 adult-student ratio).

OUT OF STATE – For tournaments such as Yale, Harvard, UPenn, George Mason, Emory, Princeton, The Glenbrooks, etc., airline travel is usually the only viable option. While these are geared primarily for varsity students, novices are more than welcome to attend (as entry spots are available).

New coaches/programs should not feel obligated to do every tournament. Focus on the "local" circuit first, possibly adding one or two more regional tournneys, so that you don't feel overwhelmed right out of the gate.

TOURNAMENT REGISTRATION WEBSITES

To register for PBCFL tournaments, you will need to use The Joy of Tournaments registration website. The Florida-specific link is: <http://www.joyoftournaments.com/bystate.asp?state=FL>. This is the most commonly-accessed tournament registration website used by area coaches.

If you are new to coaching, you will need to create a JOT account. This can easily be done on the website. If you are taking over for a former coach, and having issues, contact Trish Zenczak at support@joyoftournaments.com

Other debate registration websites include Speechwire (<http://www.speechwire.com>) and Tabroom (<http://www.tabroom.com>).

JUDGES

Parental and graduate judges are needed for all tournaments; generally, experienced coaches do not judge at local tournaments, due to other administrative requirements. (As a new coach, you'll likely judge early on, so you can get a feel for the events and rules.) It is important to involve parents of current team members, though! There needs to be a coordinated support system for the program to succeed; because of the judging requirements, if a team does not have enough judges, students have to be dropped from tournament competition. There will be judge training seminars at the first two PBCFL tournaments (September and October). In addition, many coaches host judge workshops, which you and your new parents/judge candidates are encouraged to attend.

All competitors are encouraged to help recruit judges for tournaments. Judges can be parents, adults, siblings, adult friends of the family, former high school or current college debaters, etc. Teams are required to provide a certain number of judges per tournament in order to be eligible to compete.

STUDENT TOOLS

Before classes begin, students will need to have access to a digital timer to keep track of speech times for debate events (including Congressional Debate). They should also have a flash drive with plenty of space for research, written cases, etc. Students will also need a nice folio for 8x11 legal pads, etc. for Congressional Debate. For Oral Interpretation and Program Oral Interpretation, mini-binders will be needed, which can be purchased at Office Depot, Staples, etc., as well as from the NSDA.

DVD PERFORMANCES

The National Speech & Debate Association has a number of DVDs available that can be used as viable teaching tools in the classroom. Every fall, the NSDA makes available a complete set of DVDs from that year's national championship tournament final rounds, including all main and supplemental events, as well as the awards ceremony. There is a cost for this collection; contact the NSDA for details. There are also copies of prior year final round performances. The benefit of these DVDs is that it allows students to view first-hand different debate and interpretation event techniques, as well as witness the caliber of competition at the championship level.

STUDENT TOURNAMENT ATTIRE

The PBCFL "Guidelines for Tournament Attire are attached to this document, and will be posted on every PBCFL "The Joy of Tournaments" registration page. For the sake of simplicity, "business professional" is the expectation. Here is a group photo of our five 2016 NSDA Congressional Debate finalists in proper attire:

Again, welcome to the world of competitive speaking. We hope you enjoy your stay!

Sincerely,

The Officers of the Palm Beach Catholic Forensic League

Palm Beach Catholic Forensic League - Guidelines for Behavior

The purpose of the PBCFL behavior guidelines is to ensure that all students maintain a level of professionalism and decorum in accordance with forensics, league activities, and school events. Since speech and debate tournaments are school-sponsored events, all school rules and regulations apply. Any infraction of these rules will result in consequences outlined by the student handbook. Additionally, the locations of our competitions are on school campuses and, therefore, all areas and materials must be respected and maintained accordingly. The following guidelines are to be adhered to by both competitors and observers.

1. No plagiarism (as outlined in PBCFL guidelines).
2. Students' coaches must have a copy of their pieces with the ISBN information on them.
3. Cell phones, game boys or PDA's may not be used in any round or sessions.
4. No sleeping during competition.
5. Students should be on task during competition rounds and sessions (ex. using cell phone, brushing hair, playing games, etc. are not acceptable).
6. No gum, food or drinks (other than water) in competition areas.
7. You may not leave the round/session for any reason other than an emergency. (A student may not leave to socialize, make phone calls, etc.)
8. "Visiting" other rooms during competition is prohibited.
9. No unnecessary talking or socializing during competition or awards ceremony.
10. Adhere to "one clap" rule during the awards ceremony.
11. No outbursts, inappropriate or offensive comments/remarks about competition, schools, coaches or judges during the tournament at any time.
12. Students should not be at the check in table during morning registration; coaches or designated school representative only at check in.
13. Students should be picked up or leave promptly after the tournament.
14. Students must remain in one central location with coach or school designated adult when waiting to be picked up after tournament.
15. No profanity.
16. No excessive public displays of affection.
17. No hate speech (which includes, but is not limited to, offensive comments or language regarding religion, race, gender, sexual orientation, political affiliation, or disabilities).
18. Each PBCFL tournament is a closed campus. Leaving for any reason (lunch, etc.) during the course of the tournament day will result in disqualification from the tournament and consequences at their respective schools. Remember that local PBCFL tournaments are considered a school function - all school rules still apply.
